

SAVE THE DATE!

The Association of Mathematics Teachers of New Presents the 10th Annual Special Education and Mathematics Conference
December 5, 2018

*Theme: Addressing the Challenges of Special Needs
Students in the Mathematics Classroom*

Strands:

Executive

Understanding

Learning

Dysfunction

Anxiety

Disorders

Ramada Plaza Conference Center

390 Forsgate Drive, Jamesburg, New Jersey 08831

Featuring Keynote Speaker Dr. Kathy Rotter

Dr. Rotter has over forty years of experience in working with students with special needs. She has been a classroom teacher, an LDTC, a special education director and most recently, a college professor. She founded The College of New Jersey Dyslexia Initiative and has presented statewide and nationally on the topics of executive dysfunction and dyslexia. Her teaching philosophy is that there can be no learning without laughter! Her focus is on practical strategies that any teacher can use in his or her classroom.

